

"About The Artist"

Joan started working in stained glass in January 2003. From the first class, she knew this was work that she could enjoy and excel in. Joan's specialty is animals and elements of nature. She has always had a special love for animals -- dogs in particular -- so it was a natural progression to focus on animals in her work. Joan's glass work reflects this affinity.

All commissioned pieces are based on photos of pets that have been provided by the owner. Each piece is complimented by the color choices of the customer, making every one unique in its own way.

Joan donates 50% of the sale price of each piece to one of 2 charities: Blue Rige Assistance Dogs - a non-profit organization specializing in the training of Service and Seizure Alert Dogs (www.blueridgeassistancedogs.org), and The Magic Bullet Fund - a non-profit organization providing financial assistance to people who have dogs with cancer and cannot afford the treatment necessary (www.themagicbulletfund.org).

Non-animal related work is available upon request.
